

Shoulder and side of the horse after the accident caused by a blunt pipe

Shoulder sewn up and side cleaned by the vet

Shoulder healed and side almost healed 5 months after using Handy Cure's laser twice a day (50Hz mode).

"This is my experience with the Handy Cure's laser:

I have a gelding that tore his side and shoulder open on the end of a blunt pipe. The cut on his side was deep enough to expose his rib cage. The vet cleaned both the wounds, sewed what he could, and kept him at the clinic for large doses of antibiotics to prevent infection. After 10 days, he was stable enough for me to take him home. I used the laser twice a day on 50 Hz mode, along with cut heal to keep it moist for about 5 months now.

That sounds like a long time but given the severity of his injuries, it's not long at all! His shoulder is all the way healed with a small scar and his side is down to a small circular area that just needs to hair over.

The laser was a Godsend! I thought he would have a large indent where the tissue was missing!

The laser made the tissue fill in like nothing that horrific had actually happened!

I am definitely a believer!"
